Great Performances Hugh Laurie: Let Them Talk - A Celebration of New Orleans Blues
(Documentary & performance, 1 hour)

An American favorite from his role in the hit TV series "House," the versatile British actor Hugh Laurie showcases his musical side in an atmospheric special filmed on location in New Orleans. Defying simple categorization, Laurie finds his greatest satisfaction and inspiration from the mixture of blues and jazz that grew out of New Orleans at the beginning of the last century. "Let Them Talk" is his very personal journey into the heart and soul of that music. Also including documentary and interview segments during Laurie's travels around the city, the program features his performances with blues legends Dr. John, Allen Toussaint and Irma Thomas, as well as another fellow countryman similarly inspired by this uniquely American music, Sir Tom Jones. With concert sequences filmed at the historic Latrobe's building in the French Quarter, the musical selections will include New Orleans blues standards along with some forgotten and neglected gems.

Airdate: Sun. 10/2 @ 12:00 am on KCTS 9 & KYVE

Austin City Limits Roy Orbison (Performance, 1 hour)

This live version from the August 5, 1982, telecast has been digitally remastered and edited. Orbison's appearance was a milestone in the 25-year history of AUSTIN CITY LIMITS. He became the first bona fide legend to step onto their stage. His performance took the show to a new level, a larger audience and the status of being a nationally recognized television program. After making a few live appearances at that time, this proved to be the catalyst that brought Orbison back to the forefront of the popular music scene.

Airdate: Sun. 10/2 @ 1:00 am on KCTS 9 & KYVE

Artist Toolbox Ramsey Lewis (Documentary & performance, ½ hour)

"Jazz is an expression of the feeling that you have at that moment," says legendary jazz pianist Ramsey Lewis, discussing his art and playing in his Chicago recording studio. The always wise Lewis, with his firm roots in gospel and who studied classical from a young age, has released 80 jazz albums over a 50-year career, making a huge impact on the music world with classics such as "The In Crowd," "Hang On Sloopy" and "Wade in the Water." With such a varied musical experience, it's all about the feeling, expressing the moment. "You're always looking for that lost chord," says Lewis. "You never find it. But in looking for it, you find other things." That's jazz. His most successful album is SUN GODDESS, performed with Earth, Wind & Fire, and was his fourth amongst many to go gold. Having himself begun piano lessons at the early age of four, Lewis created the Ramsey Lewis Foundation in 2005 with the mission of bringing music to the lives of at-risk children. With his unique style of fusing his early gospel roots with funky riffs, Lewis is known as 'the great performer.' Find out why in this jazz lover's edition of The Artist Toolbox. "Never intellectually approach a piece of art," warns Lewis. "Art is the mainline to creativity. Creativity is everywhere."

Music Voyager Heartbeat of Vallenato (Documentary & performance, ½ hour)

Host Jacob Edgar's journeys through Colombia reveal the country's amazing geographical, cultural and musical diversity. This time, his travels take him from the ranches and farmlands of Valledupar through the Sierra Nevada de Santa Marta mountain range and on to the Caribbean coast. The small city of Valledupar is the cradle of vallenato, a rustic, folksy and distinctly Colombian music style. There, Edgar meets Fonseca, one of Colombia's biggest stars, who has incorporated the vallenato style into the tropipop sound he made famous. He meets with the Rey de Reyes (King of Kings) of the accordion, attends a wild street party, visits a restaurant that serves unusual wildlife and joins the adorable Los Ninos de Vallenato for a performance in the city's main square. Next, he travels to a small coastal village to meet with a former paramilitary soldier-turned-vallenato-singer, who serenades from a fishing boat in the picturesque harbor. Finally, Edgar ends up in the port city of Barranquilla, where steamy, tropical Afro-Colombian beats dominate the music scene. At a rehearsal for Barranquilla's famous carnival, singer Erika Munoz gives an impromptu performance of her African-influenced sound. Colombian legend Joe Arroyo performs with his full 14-piece band in a commandeered library.

Airdate: Sun. 10/9 @ 12:00 am on KCTS 9 & KYVE

Music Voyager Afro-Colombian Grooves (Documentary & performance, ½ hour)

From Cartagena's gorgeous old city to the rough and tumble streets and beaches of La Boquilla, this episode of Music Voyager provides entree into the beauty, rhythms and culture of this colorful city. Colombia's beautiful Caribbean coast gave rise to cumbia, the iconic Colombian rhythm now popular in nearly every corner of Latin America. Host Jacob Edgar discovers sights of Cartagena da Indias alongside Toto la Momposina, one of the most respected figures in Colombian music, who performs with her band on the beach as local children dance along. Cartagena also bounces to the hot sound of champeta, a blending of contemporary African styles like Congolese soukous, Nigerian Afrobeat and South African mbaqanga with Latin and Caribbean grooves. Champeta star Louis Towers performs in the bustling Basurto market, and producer Lucas Silva guides Edgar on a tour of Cartagena's famous nightlife. Later, Charles King takes Edgar to hear the popular and extremely loud Rey de Rochas sound system.

Artist Toolbox Jason Alexander (Documentary & performance, ½ hour)

In this episode, join host John Jacobsen in the beautifully-remodeled Saban Theatre in Los Angeles as he attempts to crack up classic funny-man Jason Alexander, perhaps best known as George Costanza from the ground-breaking sitcom, "Seinfeld." While having such a successful show often typecasts actors for the rest of their careers, Alexander talks about breaking the mold and forging a career based on craft, training and ambition. Having enjoyed an active career on the stage for the past twenty years, including his Tony Award-winning performance in Jerome Robbins' Broadway and the Los Angeles production of The Producers with Martin Short, he has also appeared in numerous films, including Pretty Woman. He examines life after "Seinfeld," the process of acting and building a character, and his work as the Artistic Director of the Reprise Theatre in Los Angeles where he has directed several musicals; we'll see a snippet of his performance in his current production, They're Playing Our Song. Alexander, also a fine magician and an avid poker player, seems to have mastered the art of how to play his cards as he magically juggles a charmed career and beautiful family.

Airdate: Fri. 10/14 @ 1:00 pm on KCTS 9 & KYVE

PBS Arts from Seattle: American Masters Pearl Jam Twenty (Documentary and performance, 2 & ½ hours)

This year (2011) is a year-long celebration of Pearl Jam's 20-year history and this film -- carved from never-before-seen archival footage and many hours of recently shot interviews and live performances -- is central to the celebration. A definitive portrait of the groundbreaking band, as told by award-winning director and music journalist Cameron Crowe, we become intimate with the Seattle musicians, whose sound and social consciousness were revolutionary -- they stood up to both the prevailing social politic and the imperious music industry. Reluctantly moving from small clubs to the world stage, they resisted stardom, remaining true to their art and retaining truth in that art. Still relevant today, Pearl Jam is known for their passion and philosophy; their intense, poetic lyrics about socially and emotionally marginalized young people; for their amazing relationship with their audience. They are not, however, known for personal promotion or late-night television appearances, making the revelations in this film all the more exciting.

Airdate: Fri. 10/21 @ 9:00 pm on KCTS 9 & KYVE

Artist Toolbox John Legend (Documentary ½ hour)

In this episode of The Artist Toolbox, get a taste of the performance chops of six-time Grammy Award-winning recording artist John Legend with host John Jacobsen. More than just good looks and what Legend has called a 'presumptuous' name, Legend's innate musical ear and talent for fusing his early gospel influences with hip-hop, jazz and even classical music, has found him working with top names such as Lauryn Hill, Alicia Keys, Janet Jackson, Talib Kweli, Jay-Z, Britney Spears, Eve, Common, the Black Eyed Peas and longtime producer and friend, Kanye West. So adept at weaving myriad sounds and genres, Legend seems to have created a signature sound, if not genre, of his own. Meet this charming, caring, and disarming man in his Manhattan home where he plays his baby grand in a rare, one-on-one talk with John.

Walker Percy: A Documentary Film (Documentary 1 hour)

Walker Percy was one of the most influential American writers and philosophers of the twentieth century. He is best known for his first novel, The Moviegoer, which won the National Book Award in 1962. "Walker Percy was many other things, but I seen him in the line of great American figures. People who are determined to find their own way in this country, and aren't settled or satisfied until they've found what they're searching for. It's a classic American search that has one foot in the past and one foot in the world we live in -- of television, of suburbs, of vanished traditions." -- Paul Elie. Percy lived on the banks of the Bogue Falaya in Covington, Louisiana, a small town north of New Orleans. He was a doctor who turned to literature and philosophy, a Southerner more tuned in the European existentialists than to Faulkner -- and he was a convert to Catholicism, who found much of the language of faith to be empty of meaning. In his six highly acclaimed novels and in several collections of essays, he explored issues ranging from the "modern malaise," race relations, semiotics, to the joys of bourbon -- all with singular grace and wit.

Dreamer's Theatre (Documentary & performance ½ hour)

The uplifting performance documentary DREAMERS THEATER follows a group of cognitively challenged teens and young adults as they rehearse and stage the original musical, Assuming Assumptions. The play dramatizes the issues faced by individuals with special needs in the hopes of increasing awareness about this population and their capabilities. Members of this Richmond, Va.-based acting troupe live with a variety of developmental disabilities, including autism, Down's Syndrome, Asperger's Syndrome and other high-functioning disorders or differences. Off-stage, Ross Lipstock - the son of show creator Joan Babich Lipstock - lives with an autism spectrum disorder; on stage, he overcomes his social awkwardness and communication difficulties to portray young men dealing with the same challenges he navigates every day - employment, transportation woes, housing, relationships and more. Dreamers Theater formed in 2004 to extend the support when a developmentally disabled individual reaches adulthood. Today, the community-based theater enhances the lives of these young men and women in myriad ways. It enables them to showcase their artistic abilities, practice transferable life skills, build confidence, gain a higher level of independence and to socialize with, and serve as role models for, their peers. DREAMERS THEATER intercuts real-life stories together with similar scenes from the play: a young couple with Asperger's syndrome go on a date, a young man with Down's Syndrome works his shift at a local restaurant and another young man misses his bus stop and loses his way home.

PBS Arts from Miami: Miami City Ballet Dances Balanchine and Tharp (Performance 1 ½ hours)

This program spotlights one of America's finest regional ballet companies, Edward Villella's Miami City Ballet. The program -- a trio of signature works by George Balanchine and Twyla Tharp respectively -- showcases the company's critically acclaimed performances of Balanchine's "Square Dance" and "Western Symphony," as well as Tharp's "The Golden Section." From their home base in Miami Beach (and utilizing four performing venues in south Florida), Miami City Ballet is now approaching 26 years of accomplished dancing with more than 88 ballets in its repertoire. Villella is one of America's most celebrated male dancers; the artistry and versatility he exhibited during his long career with the New York City Ballet (1957 to 1975), and in concert appearances across the United States and Europe and on television, did much to popularize the role of the male in dance. In 1985, Villella became the founding artistic director of the Miami City Ballet, which has won worldwide acclaim under his direction.

PBS Arts from Chicago: American Masters Bill T. Jones: A Good Man (Documentary 2 hours)

Bill T. Jones, the recipient of a prestigious MacArthur "genius" grant and winner of two Tony Awards, has been named "an irreplaceable treasure" by the The Dance Heritage Coalition. Above all, he is a socially conscious choreographer who never shies away from controversy -- tackling thorny subjects such as race and politics with elegance and intelligence, artistry and originality. This film is the blood-sweat-and-tears process of mounting a full-evening dance event inspired by the life and legacy of Abraham Lincoln - it's about digging and discovery, complexity and conflict, provocation and promise. As Jones searched for Lincoln, he was haunted by brutal stories about his own family history of slavery and nagged by dichotomies about Lincoln. Ultimately, this is about Bill T. Jones and Abraham Lincoln -- both good men, whose courage and convictions, whose instincts and innovations are a testament to the timeless endurance of art and action.

Magic Moments - The Best of 50s Pop (My Music #102) (Performance 2 hours)

By popular demand, the MY MUSIC series brings back the happiest hits from the days of poodle skirts and penny loafers with MAGIC MOMENTS: THE BEST OF 50s POP, an unforgettable concert featuring singing sensations from a kinder and gentler time. Pat Boone, Phyllis McGuire and Nick Clooney co-host. From "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing" performed by the Four Aces to Patti Page singing her immortal "Old Cape Cod," these are truly magical memories from the days when songs appealed to audiences of all ages. The beloved "Mr. C.," Perry Como, launches the parade of 50s favorites with vintage footage of the show's 1958 top 10 title track "Magic Moments." Another archival clip presents the always emotional Johnnie Ray with "Cry," a million-seller from 1951, while Pat Boone croons his romantic classic from 1957, "Love Letters in the Sand." The lovely ladies of song are represented with a trio of million-selling, chart-topping tunes of the 50s. Film star Debbie Reynolds sings a sweet serenade with "Tammy" from 1957; Gogi Grant reprises her dramatic 1956 hit "The Wayward Wind"; Rosemary Clooney, in a flashback film segment, is seen in a wistful rendition of her 1954 evergreen "Hey There." More great group sounds are heard from the stunning McGuire Sisters, who offer a medley of sentimental standards such as "Sincerely," "Sugartime" and "Something's Gotta Give." Lynn Evans of the Chordettes returns to the stage to recall that trio's playful 1958 favorite "Lollipop," while the Four Preps reunite for "26 Miles (Santa Catalina)" and "Big Man."

Roy Orbison: In Dreams (Performance 1 hour)

In Dreams is the climactic and inspiring life and times - and the music - of first generation Rock And Roll Hall Of Fame inductee Roy Orbison. This major one-hour documentary film deals with the saga of pop's most enigmatic and often under-appreciated pioneer. For Orbison, whose rock and roll career spanned the 1950's through the 1980's, ambition and stardom always took a back seat to the purity and essence of his art, which history has judged to be a cornerstone of 20th century popular music. Heartbreak was no stranger to Orbison, who lost his first wife Claudette in a motorcycle accident in June of 1966, and again only a year later lost two of their sons in a tragic fire. The melancholy in his songs resonated with listeners of all ages, but especially heartsick teenagers who knew how it felt to lose in love. He mesmerized an entire generation of fans in America - and more importantly, enduringly, through the U.K. and Europe with such classics as "Only The Lonely," "Crying," "Oh, Pretty Woman," "Blue Bayou," and "You Got It" -- all of which are performed throughout the course of In Dreams.

PBS Arts from Los Angeles: Il Postino from LA Opera (Performance 2 ½ hours)

Acclaimed Mexican composer Daniel Catan's (Rappaccini Daughter, Florencia en el Amazonas, Salsipuedes) has adapted the popular 1994 film Il Postino as an opera, which was premiered by LA Opera in October 2010. Based on a novel by Antonio Skarmeta, Il Postino recounts the fictionalized story of Mario, a fisherman on a Mediterranean island whose life is transformed by the arrival of exiled Chilean poet Pablo Neruda. Pressed into service to deliver Neruda's mail, the newly ordained "postman" blossoms under Neruda's tutelage and develops a passion for poetry that serves him well in a new romance. Written especially for the legendary Plácido Domingo, the production stars Domingo as Neruda, with Charles Castronovo as Mario. Directed by Ron Daniels and conducted by Grant Gershon, the production also features Amanda Squitieri, Cristina Gallardo-Domas and Nancy Fabiola-Herrera.

PBS Arts from San Francisco: The Little Mermaid from San Francisco Ballet (Performance 2 ½ hours)

John Neumeier -- the American-born chief choreographer for Hamburg Ballet -- blends dance, dramatic storytelling and spectacle into this interpretation of Hans Christian Andersen's classic fable. With choreography, sets and costumes all by Neumeier, this ballet -- as much theater as it is dance -- reveals the depths of the choreographer's imagination. And it demands the heights of artistry from the dancers, who must venture into deeply emotional terrain in order to convey the ballet's full meaning. Created for the Royal Danish Ballet in 2005 to celebrate the 200th anniversary of Andersen's birth and featuring a score by acclaimed young composer Lera Auerbach, San Francisco Ballet received Neumeier's rare permission to present the American premiere in March 2010, which was met with ecstatic audience response. San Francisco Ballet prima ballerina Yuan Yuan Tan gives the performance of her career in the title role.
